Building a Strong Association

It is a joy to see a "how to" in the journal. Master Wang Yen-nien showing the Double Arm Verticle Circle push hands exercises are well thought out and presented clearly with pictures.

We welcome your constructive criticism, without it we only have our own opinion.

We are still in our membership drive. It is great to see all the new members.

Teachers at the Benicia Gathering continued to discuss teacher certification. The importance of providing an opportunity for people to teach and to provide quality instruction is a primary mandate of the association.

Don't forget Laoshir is going to France this summer. There may still be time to register.

Watch for our new web page! The address will be up and running within a month. It will take several months to complete the web page.

If you received this news letter and not the Journal, it could be, we are processing your membership.

If you have not paid your dues, than we are holding your journal ransom.

We want AYMTA to be a pro-active association. Participation builds an association. Please pay your dues promptly. U.S. $35.00

June 1999

Many thanks to Tom Campbell and all the contributors to the New AYMTA Journal. Tom now is planning for the next Journal and is looking forward to your submissions.

It is always great to see the elders like Pan Jou-Shih teaching here in the states. I am promising myself to get up real early and journey to the City of Ten Thousand Buddhas to visit Pan Jou-shih's class.

There I'll meet Frank Broadhead (in white at the rear of the near picture)

The Benicia Gathering was a great success. We pushed hands, practiced form, bafa and application. Fifteen hours of Taiji, associating with new friends, and interacting for better understanding.

AYMTA's Future

AYMTA is in the process of building an interactive websight. We are looking for web master volunteers. Please contact Tom Campbell with your ideas and willingness to assist. tomc@dti.net

The success of the Benicia Gathering is prompting the Association to repeat the Gathering again.. Plans are in the works and when they are finalized you will be the first to know.
